

Information Event Coach Potential Program

Do you want to get inspired for personal and professional growth?

Are you a professional who works in a collaborative setting, has leadership experience and do you feel that more is possible in unlocking potential?

Do you want to meet like minded people who could inspire you on this journey?

Are you considering taking a professional coach training?

Then you are warmly invited to attend this evening, so you can get clarity and make your choices!

This evening is designed for you to make a choice if the CPP is the right next step in your development. You will get practical information about the program, have a taste of what participating would be like, and you will meet the people you would be interacting with.

By getting to know all about the CPP, and meet the trainers, facilitators, graduates and fellow participants, you will get a glimpse of the YINX way of leadership, personal transformation and down to earth magic.
